For Over A Century The House John Martin Built Has Sheltered Families Through Changing Times

During the past century, ownership of the house pictured above has changed several times and the land surrounding the dwelling built by John Martin to shelter his large family has been converted from rolling meadows to subdivisions. The tiny cypresses planted by Mr. Martin are now gnarled and old but they still protect the house from the cold northwest winds even as they did when John and Elizabeth Martin and nine children occupied the home and grizzly bears roamed over the Mission Ranch.

Both Mr. and Mrs. Martin were born in Scotland. Mr. Martin left his native land in 1840 when his family emigrated to Canada. News of the gold rush in California reached the Martins and, in 1856, the father of the family sold his farming lands in Glengarrie County, Ontario, and set out with his wife, five sons and one daughter for California.

From the east coast of the United States they took a boat for Central America, crossed land between the Atlantic and Pacific oceans, then sailed up the Pacific Coast and in March, 1856, arrived in Monterey.

LAND BOUGHT

The Martins liked what they saw and decided to settle nearby. They abandoned their original plan of going to the gold fields and, instead, determined to resume farming in Monterey County.

The family bought land at the mouths of the Carmel, Salinas, and Pajaro rivers and started raising potatoes which were shipped up the American River to the gold fields. The family prospered.

One of the sons, John Martin, chose to settle on the land at the mouth of the Carmel River and selected a spot near the ruins of Carmel Mission for his homesite. He named his property the Mission Ranch and took unto himself a wife.

His wife, Elizabeth, emigrated to Canada from Scotland with her first husband in 1863. He died leaving her with three sons, John, Joseph and Andrew Stewart. On a visit to Glengarrie County, John Martin courted her. She was somewhat reluctant to come to live where there was no church. However, John Martin assured her there was a "kirk" right beside his Mission Ranch and John Martin and Elizabeth Stewart were wed.

HOUSE BUILT

The house they built, at first, had only one story an old photograph shows. Later the original house was lifted up to become the second story of the dwelling as it now is.

In the house lived the three

Laguna Seca Track Road Racing Center Starting Tomorrow

The fabulously new and futuristic Ford GT prototype, proud American conqueror of the fabled Italian Ferrari, will be at the Laguna Seca-USRRC event May 7-8-9, according to Ed Leslie of Carmel Valley, driver chairman of the Sports Car Racing Association of Monterey Peninsula.

Leslie spoke with Shelby-Ford officials and was informed that the much talked about GT car will be making its only appearance of the year in northern California at Laguna Seca this weekend.

Though not officially entered to race, the new GT will be prominently displayed for all to see and may be used as the official pace car for the weekend.

Jim Hall of Chevy Chaparral fame, from Midland, Texas, has filed his official entry for the races, Ed Leslie, also announces.

The filing by Hall assures northern California road race buffs of

Golden Bough And Community Theatre Groups To Merge

Carmel's oldest continuing little theatre group, the Golden Bough Players, will join forces with the Community Theatre of the Monterey Peninsula on July 1 to form a new, non-profit producing organization.

Announcement of the reorganization has been sent by the Carmel Playhouse president, Dr. Arnold Manor, and the Community Theatre president, Fritz T. Wurzmann, in a joint letter to stockholders of the theatre. Carmel Playhouse presently leases the Circle Theatre from United California Theatres Inc. According to the letter, the lease will be assigned to the Community Theatre on July 1, and the Playhouse corporation will subsequently be dissolved.

The Golden Bough Players, formed in 1924 by Edward G. Kuster, have operated in three different Carmel theatres during their 40-year history. The present Golden Bough Theatre building was financed by the shareholders of Carmel Playhouse, a corporation formed in 1950. The structure was sold to the present owners in December. Proceeds are to be used to redeem shares within the next few weeks. This will make it possible for the Players group to operate as a tax-exempt, educational organization, and to raise funds for expansion of the theatre's program of community service.

The non-profit Community Theatre was formed in 1960. For three years, it offered its members subscription tickets to plays at the Circle Theatre, but until now it has not produced plays under its own management. Beginning in July, it will offer an annual subscription series of plays at the Circle, with additional attractions at other theatres, soon to be announced.

The plan to weld the two theatrical organizations into one was

The City Fathers Happily Approve Wedding Request

It took the city council four hours last night to dispose of 40 items on an agenda dealing, predominately, with details of civic housekeeping. In the role of city fathers, councilmen dealt with money matters, vacation leave, health and safety, changes in the appearance of the city, moving the city hall, trees, employment of new personnel and replacement of the city attorney.

They considered annexation and protection of the city's sand dunes; approved placing the city's name in a display advertisement in a daily newspaper; and authorized updating of the city's building and plumbing codes.

As heads of the city family, they were most benign when granting permission for a wedding in city hall and to help the Little League. However, they encountered internal rebellion on the matter of reprinting the city laws.

They also heard an appeal for aid in providing wholesome activities for young soldiers who visit Carmel.

EXPENDITURES

In matters affecting the public purse, the council directed the city clerk to seek out an independent insurance consultant who, if retained by the city, could evaluate all insurance bids and proposals including increases in insurance coverage for employees.

Councilmen refused Fire Chief Raleigh Belvail's request for improvements to the fire station pending the appointment of a permanent fire chief. They continued consideration of the payment of $5,300 for engineering services on the Junipero Street improvement project until their committee on administration has reported on the bill.

Approved expenditures included $150 for a portable tape recorder for the planning commission and council; $500 for lighting equipment for the Forest Theater; payment of $900 to Robert E. Smith for a fire survey of Sunset School; and $100 to support student employment service provided by the Monterey office of state employment. Also approved was payment of the sum of $900 to the architectural firm of Burde, Shaw Associates for plans to remodel part of Sunset School for a city hall and municipal administrative offices. The council decided to join other Peninsula cities in a "Salute To the Military" display advertisement in next Monday's Monterey Peninsula Herald special edition featuring Military Appreciation Week—cost $50.

PERSONNEL

Informed last night in a letter of the resignation of City Attorney John Morse, the council decided to invite applications for an attorney to replace him on August 1. In the meantime, the coun-

SEVENTH SUNSET COMMISSION MEMBER APPOINTED

Mayor Herbert Blanks' selection of James B. Pruitt to be the seventh member of the Sunset Commission was unanimously approved by the city council last night. This completes the required membership of the commission which will hold its second meeting on Monday at 7:30 p.m. in city hall.

Carnival At Bay School Saturday

The annual Bay Day Carnival at the "little red school house" on Saturday promises to be better than ever this year, replete with attractions for adults as well as children. The traditional fund raising event benefits the Carmel Parent Cooperative Nursery School.

Special features this year will include rides in a pony cart provided by Sue Sally Hale and an exhibit of "Tot Art."

Other activities are the popular Indian trail featuring wild Indians; skits presented by former students; bean bag games, ring toss, the ol' fishin' hole, dart games, ping pong (with goldfish prizes); the Kiddie Korall for the very young, with Mrs. Richard Hill providing entertainment on her guitar.

Still other attractions will be the sale of home-baked specialties; a plant sale, with many varieties of plants; and a white elephant and rummage sale at the Trading Post.

Chuck wagon lunch will be served during the day and will include hot casseroles, barbecued frankfurters, a choice of green salads and French bread. Special refreshment treats for all ages will be snow cones, popcorn and lemonade.

The Bay School, which first opened its doors as a one-room school in 1879, has been in continuous operation since then. In 1955 it became the home of the Carmel Cooperative Nursery School, under the auspices of the Carmel Adult Education program. Mrs. Rosa Doner is its director, and this semester's president is Mrs. Hilton Bialek.

Assistants to the general chairman, Mrs. Frank Vanderveen, are Mrs. Bernard Angel, Mrs. William Parker, Mrs. Dorothy Heisman. Other committee chairmen are Mrs. James Mearns, Mrs. Charles O'Brien, Mrs. Richard Colburn, Mrs. David Smith, Mrs. Merill Jones, Mrs. Bialek, Mrs. Malcolm Jones and Miss Lana Chang.

More participating mothers working hard to make the day a success are Mrs. Sabastian Bordonaro, Mrs. Marcel Barel, Mrs. Richard Wilsdon, Mrs. James Brady, Mrs. John Cocker, Mrs. Herb Conley, Mrs. Charles Daly, Mrs. Neil Keefer, Mrs. Frederick Nolan, Mrs. Harold Seybod, Mrs. William Stewart, Mrs. James Miller, Mrs. Russell Thiele, Mrs. Russell Thomson, Mrs. Daniel Tibbits, Mrs. Walter Victorine and Mrs. Richard Wright.

Through the cooperation of Jack Flaherty, Monterey BMC owner, the storied automobile creation used by Secret Agent 007 in the recent film "Goldfinger" will be displayed at the Laguna Seca track Saturday and Sunday during the running of the 1965 USRRC, and will circle the track before each of the Sunday "main event" races.

The winner of the United States Road Racing Championship at Laguna Seca will be awarded the internationally recognized Pimm's Cup and a personal check for $250 from Colonel Bruce J. D. Lumsden, C.B.E., noted British sportsman and director of the company which produces Pimm's Cup beverages, in addition to the first place purse.

LECTURE ON FEAR AT CHRISTIAN SCIENCE CHURCH

Fear is the "Trojan horse" that brings in most of the world's evils, said a lecturer here on April 29.

The only safety, said William Henry Alton, is in "mental defenses"—to meet each fear with spiritual understanding, and with a growing awareness of the power of God, "divine Love."

Mr. Alton is a former oil industry evecutive who left the business world and is now a recognized teacher and practitioner of Christian Science in New York City. He is currently on tour as a member of the Board of Lectureship of The First Church of Christ, Scientist, in Boston, Massachusetts.

"Life Unafraid" was the title of his lecture here. It was sponsored by First Church of Christ, Scientist, Carmel, and presented in the church edifice. Mrs. Dorothy Oates, second reader of the church, introduced Mr. Alton.

The Ventana chapter of the Sierra Club, on Sunday, will have a rock climbing expedition at West Pinnacles. Ward Allison will be the leader.

House John Martin Built Has Sheltered Families Through Changing Times

Stewart sons and the five boys and one girl who were born on the Mission Ranch to John and Elizabeth. They were James, Robert, William, Roy, Carmel and Isabel Martin.

In 1864 their father, John Martin, took a horse-drawn load from the ranch to Monterey. On the way he was shot by a former member of the Jack Powers gang, Gregorio Oresco, who had been terrorizing this area. Mr. Martin managed to get into town and describe the man who had shot him before collapsing. Oresco was captured and brought before Justice Merritt but during the examination Monterey citizens took "forcible possession of the assassin and hanged him from the porch of El Cuartel," The Monterey Argus of January 8, 1864 reports.

John Martin recovered from his wound but never regained full health as the bullet had injured his backbone. He died in 1893.

Mrs. Martin lived on until 1916. Her son, Andrew Stewart, took over the Mission Ranch and maintained the Martin dairy herd on the property. The barn, milk house and other farm buildings are now, like the house, converted into facilities of the present Mission Ranch restaurant, night club and motel operation.

RANCH SOLD

In 1926, the Mission Ranch was sold to Mr. and Mrs. Willis J. Walker of Pebble Beach.

"Should a new subdivision be opened on the Martin ranch, new problems will be presented to the City of Carmel as it will probably soon be necessary to consider the extension of the present city limits to provide police, fire and other city protection," the June 18, 1926 issue of the Pine Cone states.

The Martin land had been left out of the original boundaries of the city when it was incorporated ten years before because it was thought unfair to levy taxes for city services on the undeveloped Martin property, the Pine Cone reported.

Between 1926 and 1936, Muriel Vanderbilt Phelps leased the Mission Ranch for a time and used it as a breeding farm for thoroughbred horses. In 1936, the land was subdivided into the Mission Tract.

RANCH SUBDIVIDED

When the Mission Ranch was subdivided, the original farm buildings were first operated as a private club. Then came World War II and the old house and outbuildings became the commercial venture today owned by Margaret and Bert Dienelt.

The over-a-century-old Martin house still shelters a family. It is now occupied by Mr. and Mrs. Darrell Faber and their three children.

"It is a wonderful old home and we love it," Mrs. Faber says.

Today, there is a move to join the Mission Ranch to the other acres which John Martin pioneered. Some residents in the subdivisions surrounding the ranch have petitioned to be annexed to the City of Carmel where once Mr. Martin grew potatoes beside the beach. Grizzly bears, one of which mangled a son of the family when he was returning at night from Monterey, have long since disappeared from this area but the Martin house on the Mission Ranch stands on.

DESCENDANTS

In it, "Mrs. Martin reared, and reared well, a large family. She was a woman of high ideals and ambitions for her children, each of whom is a prominent and respected citizen," the Pine Cone of November 29, 1916, says in the account of Mrs. Martin's death. The last of Elizabeth Martin's children, Carmel Martin, died in February of this year. One of his sons, John Martin is a Carmel resident.

Other grandchildren of Mrs. Martin in this area are Royden and Jack Martin and Mrs. Stephen Grant, wife of a Carmel city councilman. They are the children of Roy Martin.

In 1910, the youngest of the nine Martin children married Robert Leidig of Carmel. Her daughter is Mrs. Ray Draper. Mrs. Donald McKenzie Jr. is the daughter of Joseph Stewart.

William Martin married Anna Hatton. This marriage united two pioneer families whose land adjoined. The children of this union are Hatton Martin and Mrs. Leonard Williams. Fifth generation members of both the Hatton and Martin families are Anna and Michael Williams, the children of Lucinda and John Williams.

Competition On Stage

Ruth Marion McElroy, currently shining in The Chalk Garden at the Golden Bough Circle Theatre, had some stiff competition for attention from her effervescent daughters last weekend when they came up from Southern California to watch mama's performance. The young ladies, temporarily relieved of their parental responsibilities, made the most of their visit and managed to see just about everyone they ever knew here, leaving their mother a little limp when they departed.

Mary (Mrs. Howard Williams) is now a resident of Palos Verdes. Her sister, Ann Fry, lives in Santa Monica, where she adores her job as secretary for two nuclear physicists at Douglas Aircraft.

Enjoyed Decorators' Show

Mr. and Mrs. J. T. Pool were among the hundreds of guests to attend a gala preview party at the Decorators' Show House in Hillsborough on April 24 for the annual tour featuring the latest work of leading Bay Area interior and garden designers. Through May 16, four buildings on the 42-acre estate are open to the public for a view of the painstakingly redone homes.

Hear Talented Musician

Last Wednesday, Mr. and Mrs. Arthur Dresser of Carmel Valley attended the San Francisco concert of their nephew, violist John Graham, whom music critic Alfred Frankenstein describes as "a young viola-playing genius." In his review of the artist's first San Francisco concert, the critic further praised his technique, choice of material and musicianship. Janet Goodman, an old friend and former fellow student, was Mr. Graham's accompanist; also on the program was mezzo Elizabeth Pharris.

William Primrose, with whom Mr. Graham studied, traveled from Southern California for the concert. The musician's parents, Mr. and Mrs. John Graham Sr., of Arnold, California, were in the audience, as was his bride who flew out from New York.

Mr. Graham, who grew up in the family home in Danville, California, studied on scholarship at the University of California at Berkeley. The instrument he uses, a rare Amati viola, was willed to him by one of his late instructors at the university.

During 16 months' military service at Fort Ord, the young artist, who has other relatives on the Peninsula, made numerous friends here. At one time he performed, as a civilian, with a string quartet in Carmel. While in the service Mr. Graham was a member of the Army's symphony orchestra which toured Europe.

With his wife, Mr. Graham is now living and studying in New York, where he has been a member of the orchestra under Leopold Stokowski. Following his present engagements, he will return to the East to resume his position with that orchestra.

CHINESE ARTISTS TO EXHIBIT HERE

Paintings by three distinguished Chinese artists from Taiwan will be on exhibit at The Laky Galleries in Carmel from May 9 through May 23.

This exhibition will be preceded by an invitational preview party and reception for the artists on Saturday evening. The Honorable Yin-Shou Che, Consul General of the Republic of China, and his wife, will be special guests at this event.

JAMES Y. J. LIU

The artists, James Y. J. Liu, Yet-Por Cheng and Chang-Chieh Wang, are specialists in the use of their tools; and each is well known for his chosen field of expression:

Professor Liu for his landscape and flower paintings executed in black Chinese ink.

Professor Cheng for his animals. He is a specialist in crayon-sketching and design. His work shows the southern Chinese school style of painting in the strength of his strokes and the enrichment of Chinese ink color. He has also worked in other fields such as decorative design.

Professor Wang for his flowers and birds brilliantly done on Chinese rice paper in watercolor. His compositions combine the traditional Chinese way of painting with added harmony and strength.

Artists Liu, Cheng and Wang belong to the expressionist or "untrammeled" school, which stems from the centuries-old "Hsieh I" tradition.

These three artists are associated with the fine arts department of the National Academy of Taiwan, but presently are teaching as exchange professors of art in the United States. They each have had one-man shows in Formosa, Australia, Asia, Europe and in the United States. Their exhibit at The Laky Galleries will be the first of its kind on the Monterey Peninsula.

YET-POR CHENG

CHANG-CHIEH WANG

A local artist, Ralph Jacobs, has won the top award in the 24th annual exhibition of the Society of Western Artists which will open on Tuesday in the M. H. de Young Memorial Museum in San Francisco. In a release, the society announces he has been given the Anna Elizabeth Klumpey Award of $250 for his oil figure painting, "Classic Nude."

Two other local artists will have their work included in the show. They are Girard F. Aken ("Rocks at Pescadero") and Jane Curran ("Between Courses"). Both are oils.

Peninsulan Traylor Dunwoody is one of 22 sculptors whose work is being shown until the end of this month in the Marin Museum Association Sculpture Exhibition. The sculpture is displayed throughout the building and grounds of the Marin County Civic Center designed by Frank Lloyd Wright. Mr. Dunwoody's entry is titled "Parthenogenesis." It is a copper coated steel brazed with brass creation.

The June issue of "FM & THE ARTS" magazine, in cooperation with the Carmel Art Association, the Monterey Jazz Festival and the local FM radio stations, will feature Carmel and the Monterey Peninsula on its covers in full color with lead stories inside.

This independently-owned magazine is devoted to FM radio, fine music and the lively arts in all of the Northern California area.

In addition to FM log information, the magazine also carries schedules of concerts, plays, gallery shows and reviews of leading California writers. For this reason, negotiations were completed with the Carmel Art Association for a full-color cover and a lead story about the association's activities.

The first in a new series of American Federation of Arts International dinners will be given Tuesday in conjunction with the Swahili department of the Defense Langauge Institute. To be held at Neptune's Table in the upstairs banquet room, the evening will offer a dinner prepared by the department members of meat curry and rice with tropical fruit condiments. An exhibit of Swahili arts and crafts will be shown and the program will feature native music and dancing in costume.

Information and reservations may be obtained at AFA headquarters.

The Laky Galleries are entering paintings by Herbert Lewis, Paul Paulovits, Jean-Pierre Jollifie-Conin and Burton S. Boundy.

New paintings and sculpture by artist members of the Carmel Art Association will be shown beginning today through June 3 at the association's gallery. Richard Rodriguez was in charge of the hanging committee.

Motel Association Joins Civic Bodies And Citizens Group In Protest Against Oil Refinery

On Saturday, the Carmel Motel Association joined the city council, planning commission and Sierra Club in protesting the granting of a use permit for an oil refinery at Moss Landing.

On Tuesday at 8 p.m. in the Salinas city council chambers, the Monterey County Planning Commission will consider granting such a permit to the Humble Oil Company.

This week, Citizens For Clear Air presented three national authorities on air pollution in a free public meeting in the Pacific Grove Junior High School auditorium. Those who spoke were A. J. Haagen-Smit, professor of biochemistry at California Institute of Technology and a member of President Johnson's scientific advisory committee on air pollution; S. Smith Griswold, director of the Los Angeles Air Pollution Control District; and Dr. F. M. Foltiger, chairman of the California State Medical Association's air pollution committee. The speakers discussed the problems and dangers of air and water pollution.

Citizens For Clean Air is the name of a group which has named Earl L. Moser and Charles B. Kramer as co-chairmen. Members realize certain types of industries contribute pollutants to the atmosphere and that the atmospheric conditions in the Salinas Valley and all along Monterey Bay are similar to those existing in the Los Angeles Basin. Such conditions will permit only a limited amount of pollutants before a Los Angeles-type smog develops. With this in mind the Citizens For Clean Air group, with the help of experts, intends to ascertain and publicize controls necessary to the maintenance of clean air in this region.

Gentlemen:

The Carmel Motel Association, which represents all the motels and hotels in Carmel, respectfully requests your very thorough consideration before granting a permit to the Humble Oil and Refinery Company to construct a refinery at Moss Landing.

Everything Carmel symbolizes can be seriously jeopardized and ruined—effecting our community and the economy—if the permit is granted. Let's not be blinded with a lure of increased county tax base at the expensed of reduced valuations of what we now have.

We are concerned with the air pollution effects from the Humble Oil plant, but more seriously with the by-products which always follow a major development of this type.

Beyond question, Humble Oil and Refinery Company will prove their ability to attempt control of this problem. However, there will be other satellite plants with lesser ability to do so. We, therefore, suggest a strictly defined code of requirement be drawn up for all future projects that will affect our area.

By virtue of our lack of code, we have opened the door to the existing situation. It is now time we let all future newcomers know how seriously we intend to protect and guard our heritage—the most beautiful and natural area on the Pacific Coast—in actual fact, one of the few left in its natural state and free of contamination.

While we are "busy" laying out a "Master Plan" protecting the unique atmosphere of our Monterey Peninsula, we could allow something to happen that would "wipe out" our greatest ambitions; an uncontrollable situation, resulting in "smog" like that which now exists north and south of us.

We urge a delay of decision to determine a conclusion favorable to all, including our posterity.

Sincerely,
William Sefton, Chairman
Carmel Motel Association
Committee For Clean Air

Unusual Film Fare Scheduled For Hill Theatre Screen

The Hill Theatre in Monterey announces that during May and June motion pictures depicting the world's great operettas will be presented each week on Tuesday and Wednesdays.

In addition, films of famous literary classics will be interspersed with motion picture heritage triumphs on other evenings of the week. Film versions of superb ballet and opera attractions, also comedies of Alec Guinness and the Marx brothers, will be included in the outstanding fare offered during the two months.

On Saturday, Sunday and Monday, Marcel Mastroianni will be seen in "8½." Tuesday and Wednesday's film next week will feature Jeannette MacDonald in "The Merry Widow." Thursday and Friday, "The Good Earth" starring Luise Rainer will be presented on the Hill Theatre screen.

WOODS SCHOOL MAY DAY FESTIVAL

Tomorrow at 1 p.m., pupils at Woods School will hold their 15th annual May Day Festival on the kindergarten lawn.

A feature of the costumed folk dance program will be a maypole winding event. All classes in the school are participating in the program, Mrs. Anna Kohner, Woods School principal, announces.

Parents are the specially invited guests but other interested persons will be welcomed at the informal outdoors event which always seems to draw the attention of few Carmel dogs.

MUSSEL QUARANTINE

Myron W. Husband, M.D., director of public health for Monterey County, states that a quarantine of mussels for human consumption has been established by the State Department of Public Health.

The quarantine has been placed on the entire California shore line, including the coastal waters of Monterey County. It will be in effect from May 1 through October 31, 1965, and will prohibit the taking or selling of mussels for food during that time. However, mussels may be used for bait during this period, provided they are broken open at the time they are gathered and are placed in containers labeled "Mussels may contain Poison. Unfit for human food."

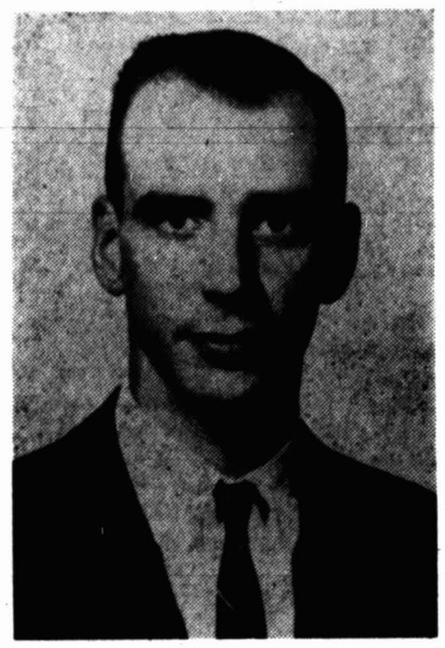
Science Correlated With The Arts At Junior High School

Team teaching, conducted at Carmel Junior High School since the school's beginning three years ago, continues to correlate science with the arts.

For the second year, William Purdy of the music department and Albert C. Kolb of the science department have led an inquiry into "Science in Music," demonstrating the order, system and harmony of the art. Recently, under the leadership of Mr. Purdy, Mr. Kolb's science classes saw how sound vibrations are systematically arranged into chords, phrases and finally a finished composition.

Mr. Kolb has teamed with Joe Broadman of the art department during the past two years to present programs on the systems and order of architecture and art, along with the life and contributions of Leonardo da Vinci.

Kenneth W. Wiese and William A. Moritz, of the arts and crafts and the industrial arts departments, have also cooperated with the science department in demonstrating the application of some of the basic principles of science.



Alexander B. McAllister, above, has been named assistant manager at Crocker-Citizens National Bank's Pebble Beach office, according to Robert McKever, Jr., vice president and manager of the office.

A native of San Francisco and a 1954 graduate from City College of San Francisco, Mr. McAllister began his banking career with the First National City Bank of New York. He joined Crocker-Citizens in 1959 and was named assistant manager of the bank's Parkmerced office in San Francisco the following year. He served in that capacity until his assignment to the Pebble Beach office.

He and his wife, Diana, have a 20-months-old son, Stuart, and expect a second child in June.

PARENTS MEETING ON ATHLETIC PROGRAM

She leaves, in addition to her husband, a sister, Mrs. Mildred Vishoot of Los Gatos; a brother, William Kelleher, and a niece, Eleanor Ann Kelleher of Sacramento.

Following services in the Little Chapel-by-the-Sea, Pacific Grove, inurnment took place in the El Carmelo Cemetery Columbarium. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make memorial contributions for Mrs. Wiemann may do so to the Community Hospital, Box HH, Carmel.

Janet Carroll

Mrs. Janet Ross Carroll, postmaster at Pebble Beach from 1918 to 1948, died last Thursday in Orange, California, after a lengthy illness. She was 87 years of age and a native of Glasgow, Scotland.

Mrs. Carroll, who came to the Peninsula in 1914, moved to Southern California in 1961 to make her home with a granddaughter, Mrs. Carroll Ferguson.

In addition to her granddaughter, she leaves a grandson, Peter Rice of Carlsbad, and two great granddaughters.

Rosary was recited Friday evening in the Mission Mortuary chapel, and a Requiem mass was held Saturday morning at Carmel Mission Basilica. Burial took place in the Monterey Catholic Cemetery.

Ethel G. Cox

Funeral services for Mrs. Ethel G. Cox were held Saturday morning at All Saints' Episcopal Church, with the Reverend Samuel Smith officiating. Mrs. Cox died last Wednesday night in a local hospital after a period of failing health.

A resident of Carmel for 15 years, she was a native of Oakland, where she was born on June 5, 1909.

Following the church services, burial took place in the Odd Fellows Cemetery at Santa Cruz. The Paul Mortuary was in charge of arrangements.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Mrs. Cox are requested to do so to the American Red Cross Blood Bank.

High School Student Wins A National Merit Scholarship

Barbara L. Arnn, daughter of Major and Mrs. John O. Arnn, has been awarded a four-year U.S. Army Merit Scholarship. She is one of the 1,900 to be chosen from a field of 14,000 semi-finalists. In addition to test scores, the awards are based on the individual's high school grades, accomplishments outside the classroom, extracurricular activities, school endorsement and similar information submitted by the students and their schools.

Barbara, a Carmel High School senior, intends to major in anthropology or archeology at Brandeis University in Massachusetts. She was secretary-treasurer of her class in 1961-62, is a member of the National Honor Society, the California Scholarship Federation and the school chorus; her special interests are painting and tennis.

The Arnn family, including 11-year-old Jimmy, has had a home in Carmel for a number of years, although Major Arnn's tours of duty have called them to other localities from time to time. He is at present serving in Viet Nam.

SANTA LUCIA HIKE

Last Sunday, 43 people, ranging in age from a pre-schooler of four years to great-grandparents, hiked together over seven miles of the Santa Lucia Mountains trails in what was described as "a perfect day's outing." The hikers, members of the Ventana chapter of the Sierra Club (the chapter embraces the area of Monterey County), were led by Earl Moser of Carmel. The starting point was on Palo Colorado Canyon Road at the intersection of the Rocky Creek Trail. The group moved along Rocky Creek Trail up to the headwaters of Rocky Creek, then via Turner Creek Trail to Turner Creek Camp for lunch. Enroute they passed through a field of blue-purple lupine which was so magnificent that, according to Mr. Moser, "it had everyone gasping for words to describe its beauty." In another area, the leader told of "an avenue of white and blue ceanothus that was simply stupendous." Still other thrilling views were great areas filled with blue Douglas Iris. Robert L. Le Yoe, Sierra Club member, assisted Mr. Moser on the trail and during the leisure period that followed lunch when members of the group "went exploring for traces of Indian life in the area." Other members "simply relaxed" and listened to veteran hiker, Donald Campbell, play his harmonica.

CONDOR COUNTRY TO BE VISITED

Members of the Ventana and Loma Prieta chapters of the Sierra Club are planning a three-day trip, beginning May 29, into the southern part of the Los Padres National Forest which is the habitat of the rare and extraordinary bird, the condor. The first day of this knapsack trip participants will hike 11 miles into the San Rafael Wild Area of the forest—starting at 3,100 feet and climbing to approximately 6,500 feet. This country abounds with stands of sugar pine, pinyon and fir. Camp will be made within about five miles of the Condor Sanctuary. Samuel Hopkins of the Ventana Chapter and Ellwood Holbrook and Frank Spivey of the Loma Prieta chapter will be leaders for this unusual trip.

THE COMPOSERS' FORUM

Members of the faculties of University of California at Berkeley and San Francisco State College, the musical director of Radio Station KPFA, the assistant conductor of the Oakland Symphony and the music critic of the San Francisco Examiner are among a large group of composers and musicians who will take part in a three-day Composers' Forum which will begin tomorrow night in Big Sur. Coordinating the weekend seminars and concerts is Owen James of Big Sur and San Francisco, flutist and member of the "James Family," all musicians. Concerts will be presented Friday and Sunday evenings at 8:30 o'clock at Nepenthe. Saturday at 9:00 p.m., a concert of the new music will be given at Big Sur Hot Springs Lodge. Seminars will be conducted at Big Sur Hot Springs throughout the weekend. Open discussions will be held Saturday and Sunday afternoons.

JAZZ NIGHT

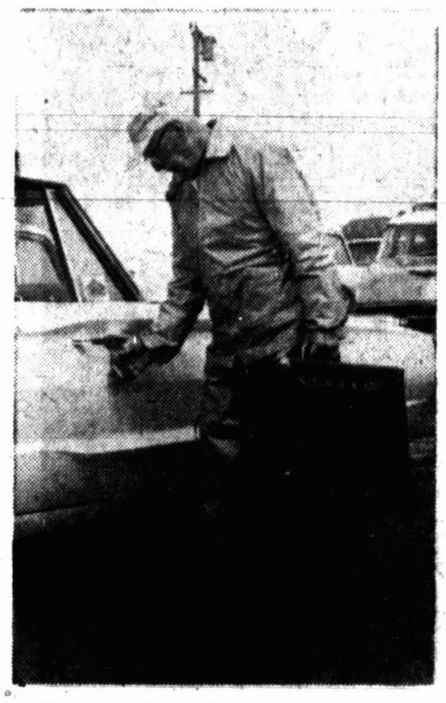
A program of jazz music will be presented Wednesday, May 12 at 8:30 at Nepenthe, Big Sur. Artists of the evening will be Peter Ind, bass, and All Schackman, guitarist.

SAN SIMEON BY RAIL

The Pacific Coast Chapter, R&LHS — a railroad club, with headquarters in Redwood City, arranged a "San Simeon By Rail" trip this past week-end, for a large group of individuals from the San Francisco Bay area. The trip was a repeat of six previous ones that came to Monterey via special train. Friday night was spent in Monterey, and Saturday a chartered bus took the group down the famous Sur Coast to the State Historical Monument—Hearst's Castle — and then returned to Monterey. Sunday morning there was sight-seeing about the Carmel area. The return to San Francisco was by way of Southern Pacific Railroad's "Coast Daylight."

FREE CHEST X-RAYS

The mobile x-ray unit of the Monterey County Health Department will be parked near the post office on Tuesday from 1-5 p.m. During these hours, free chest x-rays will be given to anyone so desiring. No clothing needs to be removed.



The hands locking the auto door above belong to 80-year-old Lieutenant Commander (USN Ret.) Walter M. Strong of Carmel. These steady hands are a formidable threat to his competitors in marksmanship and have helped him qualify as "Expert" with the .22 caliber pistol and as "Sharpshooter" with the more difficult .38 and .45 caliber pistols, although Commander Strong took up shooting as a hobby only a little over two years ago.

Dubbed the "Grand Old Man" of the Sixth U.S. Army Pistol Championships at Fort Ord, he commanded a destroyer during World War I, long before many of his opponents at the pistol range were born. Their admiration and respect for him is unqualified, for, as one shooter says, "He asks no quarter and gives none."

Commander Strong, who saw duty in both World Wars and was a Merchant Marine Captain in between, comes from a long line of sea captains. Already at sea at the age of 16, he became a third mate at 18 and assumed his first command in 1915. He is a native of Amytyville, New York. During his 50 years at sea he saw most of the world "more than once" and claims this area's coast is unsurpassed in natural beauty. His acquaintance with the area, during his golf-playing days, led him to return upon his retirement.

Books and hiking are among the energetic Commander's other hobbies. He is now a member of the California and Fort Ord Rod and Gun Clubs.

CHRISTIAN SCIENCE SERMON

The question of whether mankind can actually exist without God will be explored in depth at all Christian Science churches this Sunday. The subject is "Adam and Fallen Man."

The Responsive Reading includes this line from James: "Draw nigh to God, and he will draw nigh to you." The theme is carried through in the Bible Lesson to the final citations from Psalms: "He shall bring forth thy righteousness as the light, and thy judgment as the noonday."

Related readings from "Science and Health with Key to the Scriptures" by Mary Baker Eddy will include these lines: "Let us rid ourselves of the belief that man is separated from God, and obey only the divine Principle, Life and Love" (P. 91).

Studio Presents Comic Mayhem In New Play 'My Three Angels'

On opening night of "My Three Angels," the Studio Restaurant and Theatre supplied dessert in the form of murder which swallowed a bit hard in spots. The play, adapted from a French farce by Sam and Bella Spewack, proved generally entertaining with a Spewack-y twist that makes murder hilariously funny and convenient to the plot. Under the auspices of Betty Hackett and Royden Martin, the Studio easily adapts to one-set premises depicting a general store living quarters in the tropical community of Cayenne, French Guiana, which is adjacent to a French prison for murderous felons.

Ruth Jordan Allan has once again proven her set-design abilities with a delightfully atmospheric execution. Director Michael Keller utilizes the very workable setting to manipulate his actors with admirable skill. "My Three Angels" is, in truth, reference to three convicts on "loan" to the Ducotel family for some needed repairs to the roof of the general store.

Felix Ducotel manages this store with the aid of his wife Emilie. Their daughter, Marie Louise, is the ingenue, love interest and third member of the Ducotel household. The plot evolves with the impending inspection visit of cousin Henri Trouchard, Napoleonic employer of the Ducotels, and his son, Paul, the intended groom of Marie Louise. Felix's flighty inefficiency and generally muddled bookkeeping leads to anxious confusion in anticipation of Trouchard's arrival and provides the "three angels" the opportunity to assist in the solution. Their combined talents, from "doctoring" the account books to masterminding murder culminates in many laughable situations and some thoroughly convenient demises with the aid of their pet snake, Adolphe, as the weapon.

The intermingling of a majority of inexperienced players with a few previously tested performers makes "My Three Angels" the more admirable, for its final acquittal is well rendered and the full house enjoyed the honest effort.

"The Three Angels," portrayed by Paul Elliott, Don Walsh and S. Byran Hickox, lent their youthful talents to the delightfully comic situations with sprightly zest and well rehearsed lines and business. They will be fully appreciated by succeeding audiences.

Tom Akers as Felix Ducotel gave a convincing portrayal of the nervous, inept storekeeper though his unsureness was not all accountable to characterization as jitters overtook him in lines which ofttimes occurs on opening night.

Kay Carlson as Emilie Ducotel, the helpless mate of Felix, surveyed her role with a bit more extraneous movement and reaction than necessary for a complete portrayal but more listening and less playing will undoubtedly rectify this shortcoming in future performances.

Marie Louise was displayed brightly by Jacqueline Beaton, an attractive young ingenue, whose experience will be appreciated with succeeding roles. Her voice is adequate for the small confines of the Studio stage but will benefit greatly with work and training.

Ruth Anderson as a customer of the Ducotels perfectly performed to the comic delight of all. The more commendable, since she was a late replacement for the intended performer who was called away by illness. Henri Trouchard was played by John G. Beckman Jr. who produced the hardened demeanor of the hateful employer with the great assurance of experience at characterization, much appreciated by this reviewer.

Rod Allison is another young talent that gave the role of Paul Trouchard a good effort and came off well. The part of the Lieutenant was entrusted to Steve Cate and he exacted the coup de grace to the laugh-filled evening with a small but important role that showed his capabilities worthy of more responsible parts in future productions.

"My Three Angels" will play Friday through Sunday evening at 8:30 p.m. preceded by dinner, if desired, between 6:30 and 7:30 o'clock at The Studio Restaurant and Theatre. Both dinner and show add up to a very enjoyable evening's entertainment. L.J.

Carmel High School Graduate Now Noted Vascular Surgeon

The Dr. Stoney mentioned in Time magazine's description (April 16 edition) of an extraordinary surgical operation is Dr. Ronald J. Stoney, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ronald B. Stoney of Carmel Valley and a graduate of Carmel High School. A graduate of the University of California Medical School and a surgical resident at U.C. Medical Center for several years, Dr. Stoney specializes in vascular surgery.

The removal of a tumor at the base of the brain, heretofore considered impossible, was successfully performed by a team consisting of neurosurgeons Dr. George C. Stevenson, Dr. Roland J. Perkins and Dr. Stoney. With Dr. Stevenson, Dr. Stoney helped plan the entire operation and develop the instruments which made it possible. He, also, was responsible for the initial surgery during the 11-hour operation but Dr. Stevenson completed the actual removal of the tumor.

The two doctors will travel to Copenhagen in August to present a film of the entire operation before a meeting of the World Council of Surgeons.

Ronald's father remembers the early interest in science of his son and W. Gerald Robison Jr., who was recently awarded a National Academy of Sciences-National Research Council postdoctoral research fellowship. The boys, who graduated in the same class from Carmel High, were constantly experimenting, and it is interesting to note that both credit their high school science teacher, Miss Enid Larson, with having motivated them in the choice of careers.

Dr. Stoney now resides in San Francisco with his wife and two sons, Mark and David.

Ronald's mother, incidentally, is currently in Holland visiting her daughter, Mrs. William A. Morris, whose second son, Ronald, was born in February. During her stay in Europe, Mrs. Stoney has also traveled to Switzerland, Austria, Rome and Naples and, with her daughter and son-in-law, spent Easter week in Paris.

Helen van Riper

Funeral services were held in Boston this week for Mrs. Helen Ordway van Riper, a well known resident of Carmel from 1920 until the late 1930's. She died in a Boston hospital on Saturday after a period of failing health.

Mrs. van Riper and her former husband, the late Charles K. van Riper, built one of the earliest houses on Carmel Point in 1920, a lovely native stone residence which was a gathering place for their many friends. Adjoining it was the one-time baseball field of the Abalone League, which Mr. van Riper helped organize and on whose teams both he and his wife played. The van Ripers, both active in theatrical as well as civic activities, contributed in many ways to the community.

After leaving Carmel, Mrs. van Riper made her home in Vineyard Haven, Massachusetts, until 1953, when she moved to Boston.

She is survived by her son, Tony van Riper of Boston, and his children; also by a sister, Mrs. Richard Tunison of Maine.

EIGHT FRONT TEETH OF UNIFORM SIZE . . .

That's how you know a sheep or a goat is one year old. It's a little harder to tell the exact age of some of our picturesque Carmel homes, especially those which have been so loved and cared for and kept up to date that the only real clue to age is the incomparable charm of a house which has grown up along with its garden and trees until the whole presents an integrated, mellowed unit. Here are three perfect examples:

(1) A RAMBLING, SPLIT-LEVEL three bedroom, three bath home near the Village on a 60 x 100 ft. lot. Every modern and up-to-date convenience, carpeted throughout, central heat, yet the charm of old Carmel lingers in the stone fireplace, the beam ceilings, Dutch doors, and the irreplaceable old oaks. And the price is only $38,500.

(2) A 2-STORY "ENGLISH COTSWOLD" with 4 bedrooms, 3 baths, and only a couple of blocks from town. Wonderful construction with weathered rustic exterior, enforced by plastered interior, completely modern in every respect. Again, an oversize lot and beautiful trees and the price is just $46,500.

(3) Something completely different from either of the above, on Carmel's Scenic Drive. This is a house for those who'd like a secret garden behind a lovely old wall, an unobstructable ocean view framed by almost-oriental cypress, a separate guest room and bath and, again every modern convenience and improvement. $59,500 is the full price.

Wedding Request Happily Approved By City Fathers

cil, as soon as possible, will interview applicants. When one is selected, the new city-attorney-to-be will be employed as assistant city attorney at a salary of $200 per month while he understudies Mr. Morse until August 1. After that date, he will become city attorney at $400 a month.

The council approved the absence of Planning Commission Chairman Dorothy von Meier while she is on a six-months world tour starting in July. City Forester Hugh E. Smith, a former planning commissioner, will become an advisory member of the commission during this period.

The resignation of Hazel McLellan from the arts commission was accepted with regret. A request from the arts commission that its numbers be increased from seven to 11 members was referred to the council's public welfare committee for study and report. James B. Pruitt was confirmed as a representative of Carmel Sanitary District on the Carmel Disaster Council. James B. Grewell was employed as a streetman and Merle Murphy as a casual fireman.

HEALTH AND SAFETY

The council, last night, adopted an ordinance making the collection of garbage compulsory. This will go into effect in 30 days. Persons with little refuse, on certification approved by the city, may use a neighbor's garbage can, if this sharing also receives certification.

Also adopted was an ordinance prohibiting persons from sleeping in vehicles parked on city streets. First reading was given to an ordinance updating the building and plumbing codes especially in relation to the installation of gas appliances.

A new joint powers agreement between the city and the sanitary district was approved. The city will now keep revenue from fees and permits instead of being paid $100 a month for inspection of sanitary installations in new buildings.

CHANGES

The P.G.&E. received the council's permission to proceed with placing utility service underground in the business district. A public hearing on the area where aboveground poles and wires will be removed for this improvement was set for July 7.

The P.G.&E. was also granted 88 requests to trim and remove trees, mostly in the forest area bordering Del Monte Properties land.

The Mayor appointed Councilmen Stephen Grant and Eben Whittlesey as an ad hoc committee to confer with Jack Patterson, owner of the former Elizabeth McClung White duneland, on scenic easements benefiting the city.

Residents of Mission Fields and the Mission Tract were given permission to go ahead with annexation procedure as the city did not object to minor changes recommended by the county boundary committee. There was considerable discussion over the advisability of moving the city hall to the Sunset School premises after July 1 but the council decided to proceed as planned.

THE CITY FAMILY

Councilman Grant took strong exception to reprinting the city laws without recodifying and considered last night's authorization of $819 for just reprinting to be "a breach of faith."

Anita Wainwright asked the council to motivate wholesome activities for young soldiers visiting Carmel. She suggested that the American Legion might allow its premises to be used as a reactivated USO on Saturdays.

In a happy mood, the council approved the use of the city hall for the marriage of Charlotte Townsend, a member of the Harrison Memorial Library Board, to Squire Hurst of Chicago on May 29. They also were pleased to be able to help the Carmel Little League by loaning street department employees and equipment for eight hours to improve the league's playing field.

Belle De Camp

Mrs. Belle H. De Camp, a well known resident of Carmel since 1950, died Tuesday in a local hospital after a brief illness. She was the wife of Lieutenant Colonel C. Austin De Camp (USA Ret.).

Mrs. De Camp, who was born in Oswego, New York, on August 20, 1883, devoted much of her life to teaching and working with underprivileged children. She was an education graduate of Northwestern University and held a degree in social work from the University of Chicago.

Memorial services will be held tomorrow at 3 p.m. in the Mission Mortuary chapel with the Reverend Karel V. Vit of the Church in the Round officiating. Inurnment will take place in the Chapel of the Chimes in Oakland.

Friends wishing to make contributions in the memory of Mrs. De Camp may do so to the Community Hospital Building Fund, Box HH, Carmel.
